

Beauty is in the Eye of the Beholder
ONLINE EXHIBITION OF JEWELRY FEATURING NON-PRECIOUS MATERIALS
To be hosted on Ganoksin.com

This exhibition will be held online only, and will feature jewelry that is primarily constructed of non-precious metals and other materials (Precious metals being defined as silver, gold, platinum, palladium, and their alloys). The jewelry should be designed to actually be worn, not just viewed. This exhibition is open to everyone from master goldsmiths to rank beginners, and is not juried - all entries with qualifying images will be accepted.

To qualify images must be jury quality, clearly focused, show the jewelry clearly, and be visually pleasing to look at. All images should be in jpg format only, under 1MB each. Images should have a neutral background with no props, preferably gray or white. Entrants will be notified if images are not of acceptable quality, and may submit new images through the closing date.

Each person may submit up to three pieces.

Entries should be e-mailed to: onlineexhibition@earthlink.net Please put the exhibition name in the e-mail subject line. In the body of the e-mail identify each piece with title, material(s), dimensions, price or NFS, country and name of the artist. If you have a web site or online selling site you would like linked to your piece(s) please include the correct address(es), or whatever contact information you would like included. You will have two lines for contact information. Any broken links will not be used. Sales will NOT be conducted from the exhibition!

Entries will be accepted between April 1 and May 31.
