

Marshall M. Fredericks Sculpture Museum
Saginaw Valley State University
7400 Bay Road, University Center, MI

The Marshall M. Fredericks Sculpture Museum is located on the campus of Saginaw Valley State University in mid-Michigan. In addition to being a single artist Museum that exhibits the work of Marshall M. Fredericks (1908-1998), the Museum hosts three traveling exhibitions annually. The current exhibition at the Museum is The Softness of Iron: Welded Sculpture by Orna Ben-Ami.

The Museum has a gift shop where we display and sell the work of several Michigan artists and objects related to Marshall Fredericks.

The Museum works with artists on a consignment basis. The Museum keeps 30 percent of the sale price and 70 percent goes to the artist. Consignment checks are mailed the second week of every month to all artists whose work sold the previous month.

Currently we are looking to add the work of three or four jewelry designers to the gift shop inventory. If you are interested in placing your work on consignment in our gift shop, please send me an email with your website address and indicating your interest. Once I look at your website, I will be in touch with you within a few days. If you do not have a website, send me an electronic copy of your bio, an artist statement, and a few images of your work.

To learn more about the Marshall M. Fredericks Sculpture Museum, visit our website at www.marshallfredericks.org.